

Bay post office delays 911 address changes

BY DENA BISNETTE

Whether Hancock County residents should use the new addresses given to them in the county's Enhanced-911 project depends on which post office delivers their mail.

The project, being conducted through the Hancock County Tax Assessor and Collector's Office in order to reduce the expense, is expected to be completed in October.

Candy Breaux, project manager for the tax office, said only three major areas remain to be completed—Pearlington, BaySide Park and the Blue Meadow Road area adjacent to the Bay St. Louis city limits.

That means that all Hancock Countians outside Bay St. Louis, Waveland and Diamondhead who have their mail handled through a post office other than Bay St. Louis post office already have their house numbers and street addresses.

Diamondhead is an exception because that community already has street addresses and house numbers and the two cities are not part of the county's project.

The program calls for the naming or numbering of every road in the county and the numbering of every structure. According to Tax Assessor and Collector Edward Murtagh, the numbering system has been set up in order to facilitate expansion if buildings are constructed on lots which are currently empty.

All of the information is placed on a computer printout, which will be used by South Central Bell to form the basis of the enhanced-911 system.

In a regular 911 system, a caller must tell an emergency service dispatcher where he is. If the caller is unable to provide the information, the ambulance, fire department or law enforcement officers can have difficulty finding him.

In enhanced-911, people still dial the same three digits.

However, the dispatcher is automatically provided with a computer readout showing the number and location of the telephone from which the call was made, whether it is commercial or residential, the name of the telephone customer and the name of one other person, such as the occupant of a rental property or a second occupant of a residence.

Murtagh said testing and installation of the equipment is expected to begin later this month or during August.

Breaux said field representatives from the tax office are still visiting homes and businesses, providing residents, occupants or owners with their new addresses.

Those who were not home were left a card to fill out and return or, as in the case of out-of-state residents who own vacation or weekend homes, were notified by letter.

Originally, residents were told not to use their new addresses for two months from the date they were notified. Each month, the tax office supplies a printout to post offices, including the district post office at Gulfport, and to South Central Bell.

As with any change in address, post offices will continue delivering mail bearing the old address as well as the new one for up to a year.

Residents who are on Bay St. Louis routes, however, are being told not to use the new addresses at all until the post office notifies them.

According to Murtagh and 911—Page 3A

Youth not indicted in dad's shooting

Hancock County's July grand jury has decided not to indict a Caesar Community teenager for the Mother's Day shooting of his father.

The jury returned a "no true bill" against Michael Ragus, 19, whom authorities said they believed had shot his father, Larry Ragus, in self-defense.

Michael Ragus told authorities that he shot his father after watching him hack his mother, Janele Ragus, to death with an ax on that Sunday afternoon.

Janele Ragus, 47, died from multiple ax-wounds to the head, face and upper body. Larry Ragus, 49, died of six .22 caliber bullet wounds.

Michael said he shot his dad in self-defense, after wrestling a rifle from him. He said his father had told him he might as well kill him, too, and had thrown the ax at him.

All the evidence found at the scene corroborated the younger Ragus' account of the case they determined to be murder/self-defense.

All homicides are presented to the grand jury as a matter of procedure, Sheriff Ronald Peterson said the week of the killings.

Board immersed in colors so school may be appealing

BY D.C. HARVILL

For the first time in its history, the current Hancock County School Board Monday evening found itself at odds—over bricks.

For several months, the board has been immersed in the selection of the external materials for the new junior/senior high school being built by the school district adjacent to Stennis Air Park.

What might sound like a simple process has turned into a months-long ordeal as the board, charged with creating an attractive, efficient building within the confines of the district's limited budget, has had to coordinate the colors and textures of metal roofing, a metal accent band, bricks, soldier course (a vertical row of different colored bricks near the ground), window frames and doors.

The situation has been further complicated by the availability of the items selected.

The 5 to 2 vote over selection of the color and texture of brick for the school's exterior, arose when architect John Field showed the four women, one man-board color samples for metal window frames and doors.

Board member Kay Sones questioned whether a color labeled 'coral pink' would match the bricks they had selected and noted that it looked better with a brick that had been eliminated from selection.

Nat Mixon, project manager for Lincoln Builders, the firm constructing the school, furthered the move to switch bricks when he said, "Personally, I wouldn't mix textures of bricks." The board's original selection had rough rust-colored bricks paired with

Not a gesture of goodwill

Bay St. Louis Goodwill store manager Angie Morreale has notified police to be alert to persons dropping off large "junk" items at the location at night. The items shown, a heavily damaged couch and boxsprings that have "sprung", were deposited on the Goodwill doorstep instead of the dump, where they belong. The store welcomes usable items during working hours, Monday-Saturday, 8:30-4:30. (Staff photo by Janet McQueen)

Crack bust nets two New Orleans residents

BY D.C. HARVILL

Two New Orleans men who allegedly had been pushing crack cocaine at a Bay St. Louis drug hot spot have been arrested.

Equine Germaine Robinson, 20, 250 Holmes Blvd, Apt. 4303, New Orleans and Renoir Rhyne Red, 20, of the same address, were taken into custody early Tuesday morning after Bay Police exercised a search warrant for their room at Payless Motel on Highway 90, according to Police Chief Ray Murphy.

According to Murphy, the pair had been under observation for several days in the vicinity of Sycamore and St. Francis Streets, one of several areas in the city plagued by drug traffic and drug-related crime.

Both men have been charged with possession of a controlled substance. Robinson's bond has been set at $25,000. Red also has been charged with possession of a concealed weapon, upping his bond to $25,500.

Ten "slabs" of crack cocaine, a .38 caliber revolver, a 1986 Subaru Sedan and $500 in cash were confiscated during the arrests, which were made without incident, according to Murphy.

Although the men were unemployed, they carried telephone beepers, Murphy said.

Street value of the confiscated crack is estimated at $5,000.

A petition with the names of 65 people living in the neighborhood surrounding the now infamous intersection of St. Francis and Sycamore Streets, commonly known as "the corner", recently was presented to the city council. Mayor Edward Favre has vowed that his administration will actively pursue solutions to the problem.

"The arrests are a part of our ongoing effort to clean up the drug problem on that corner," Murphy said.

The two are scheduled for an initial appearance Wednesday before Municipal Judge George Lipscomb.

Pearlington man given life for raping juvenile

BY D.C. HARVILL

A Pearlington man was sentenced to life in prison Wednesday for the capital rape of an 11-year-old.

The jury was out for nearly two hours Wednesday morning before finding Benny Ray Singleton, 23, guilty of raping his brother's stepdaughter in September 1988.

The rape occurred at the brother's home in Bay St. Louis, where Singleton reportedly was babysitting. Singleton confessed to having sex with the girl.

"It's hard to lose one when you have a confession," Assistant District Attorney Dewitt Allred said following the trial.

Having sexual relations with a minor under 14 years old is considered a capital crime and the judge is given no choice but to issue a sentence of life in prison, according to Allred.

MORNING EDITION

Lt. Col Stephen Zakrzewski, commander of the Mississippi Army Ammunition Plant, will be featured speaker Thursday at the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce Morning Edition.

Morning Edition begins at 7:30 a.m. at Wheel Inn Restaurant, US-90, Bay St. Louis.

Breaux, however, they may go ahead and post their house numbers on their buildings or, if the structures are not visible from the road, near the driveway entrances, in order to help guide emergency vehicles.

Breaux said there have been a few difficulties resulting from people using the new addresses too early, particularly because South Central Bell now requires a house number and street address from anyone trying to obtain telephone service.

Ray Hancock, a supervisor at the Bay St. Louis Post Office, explained that the post office can not make a few scattered address changes when altering an entire route and will therefore make the changes when all the new addresses have been given out.

He said the scattered address changes made so far are "hurting productivity" and that about 40 hours of retraining will be required for his clerks to learn the changes on the nine rural routes currently handled through Bay St. Louis.

Some mail is being returned so post office personnel can cross-reference the new address due to unfamiliarity with street names, although when a street name duplicates one in Bay St. Louis or Waveland, the post office is provided a clue because the county is using only four- and five-digit numbers.

Duplicate names in the county have been eliminated through renamings. In addition, the Hancock County Board of Supervisors has declared a temporary moratorium on the naming of roads until after the project is over.

Hancock also said that because some roads are numbered rather than named, there has been some confusion with handwritten addresses running the house number into the street number.

Murtagh said single address changes, such as when a person moves, or new addresses for new structures, can be added to the enhanced-911 system in a manner similar to the constant reappraisal updating done through his office.

Murtagh's enhanced-911 staff also works on reappraisal and has added only one permanent employee since the program began.

Breaux said field representatives have been receiving "great cooperation from the public." She added that trips into the more remote areas of Hancock County have revealed not only a higher population than expected, but a number of roads probably known "only to those who live there."

Murtagh said so far, that is about all the staff has received.

"These people do all this on their regular salary. The real reward they're going to get is how they feel when they read about the results of this project saving someone's life," he stated.

Small business tax workshops offered in Biloxi, Gulfport

Two free tax workshops for self-employed people and small business owners will be held from noon to 4:30 p.m. on Tuesday, July 25, at the Biloxi Chamber of Commerce Office, 1048 Beach Boulevard, and Thursday, July 27, at the Gulfport Chamber of Commerce, 1401-20th Avenue, according to the Internal Revenue Service.

These workshops are offered as a public service through the Internal Revenue Service's Taxpayer Education Program and are cosponsored by the Biloxi and Gulfport Chambers of Commerce, Long Beach Small Business Development Center, Mississippi Employment Security Commission, and the State Sales Tax Office to alert new and established business owners of their federal tax responsibilities.

On July 25, the instructor will cover such topics as types of business organizations, record-keeping and accounting practices, income and deductions on the Schedule C, self-employment tax and estimated tax. Practical exercises will teach small business owners how to determine taxable income and how to complete Form 1040.

The workshop on July 27 will cover employment taxes. Topics will include in-depth review of employer's responsibility for withholding income and Social Security taxes, depositing of federal taxes using Federal Tax Deposit Coupons, and comprehensive exercises involving the completion of employment tax returns.

Participants will also learn about the advantages and disadvantages of sole proprietorships, partnerships and corporations. Each workshop session will include a question and answer segment.

Those interested should pre-register by calling the Small Business Development Center in Long Beach at 865-4578 by July 24. Seating for these workshops is limited. Participants may attend either session or both.

Pessin named chief engineer

Myron A. Pessin, a New Orleans native, has been appointed chief engineer for the External Tank/Shuttle Systems for NASA's Space Shuttle at Marshall Space Flight Center in Huntsville, Ala.

Pessin is assigned to the Office of Space Transportation Systems Chief Engineers in the Science and Engineering Directorate and is responsible to the External Tank Project manager within the Shuttle Projects Office to assure technical adequacy of the project including in-house and contractor engineering.

Pessin was graduated from Fortier High School in New Orleans in 1949. He attended Tulane University where he was graduated in 1953 with a bachelor of science degree in mechanical engineering.

Pessin joined the Marshall Center in 1961 as a mechanical engineer in the former Light and Medium Vehicles Office. He subsequently worked as a project engineer in the S-IC program at the Michoud Assembly Facility in New Orleans until November 1970 when he returned to the technical staff in the former Engine Program Office at Marshall Center.

In November 1972, he was assigned to the External Tank Project, Shuttle Projects Office and was promoted to chief, Production and Project Engineering Office, External Tank Project in October 1986.

Pessin has received numerous awards, including the NASA Exceptional Service Medal in 1988 for outstanding contributions to the agency's return to flight.

The Space Shuttle's expendable external tank carries liquid hydrogen and liquid oxygen to fuel the Shuttle's three main engines.

smooth cream-colored bricks for the soldier course. Frank Miller, the only male on the board, bowed out of the discussion telling the ladies to choose what they wanted. When Sones, Carol Bustetter and Lennette Necaise all agreed to the change, Sones said jokingly, "Hey, we have them outnumbered, let's just vote on it."

Bustetter then made a motion that they change the brick selection to the smooth, light red bricks of the other sample. The vote went 3 to 2, with Miller and Barbara Dedaux sticking to their original selection.

"This is the first time they've had a 3 to 2 vote split, but at least it was a harmonious split," Superintendent Terrell Randolph said.

"If people are going to have to look at this building for the next 50 years it might as well be attractive," Dedaux said at a meeting earlier this year.

Later in the meeting, when a representative of a cabinetry manufacturer produced a chart of color options, Mixon turned to

Field and said, "Oh no, not more colors."

Earlier in the meeting, Mixon reported that slab work at the school site is underway. Due to the abnormally large amount of rain over the past two months, he said he probably will request a time extension for the number of rain days "above and beyond" the average number of rain days.

"QUOTABLE QUOTES"

By Ellis C. Cuevas

Those of you who are early risers do not want to forget the Chamber of Commerce's Morning Edition at 7:30 this morning at the Wheel Inn Restaurant.

Lt. Col. Stephen Zakrzewski, commander of the Mississippi Army Ammunitions Plant, will be the guest speaker.

I am sure some of the questions to be asked of the colonel will be about the reported closing of the plant in 1992.

This is a meeting which all interested parties should attend.

We hope to see you at the morning edition.

One of the most talked-about items in the county at this time is the Fitness Trail in front of Hancock Medical Center.

Folks are exercising all hours of the day and night. I have been able to do some walking and I have even had folks say they saw me from the highway as they passed. I guess those Hawaiian shirts I wear give me away.

A beauty of the fitness trail is the fact that it is really being used by folks of all ages.

It is truly enjoyable to walk and chat with old and new friends.

I have had several folks tell me they know they need to do some walking for exercise, but haven't gotten to it as yet.

It would be interesting to know how many folks use the popular facility during a 24-hour period.

Many obstacles can be overcome when a group of residents get together and decide something should be done about a matter.

I am talking about a group presented to the Bay St. Louis City Council from some 65 people living in the area of St. Francis and St. Mary Streets who are fed up with the drug traffic and violence in the neighborhood.

There should be a way of dealing with the problems of the neighborhood and the cooperation among the residents and city fathers can result in a solution.

For many years I have heard the complaining about the 'famous' intersection, yet most of the time it was from those living outside the area.

EYES ON MISSISSIPPI

By Bill Minor

Woman to head state's Democratic Party as director

Mississippi Democrats have handed the job of trying to heal their wounded party to a savvy 25-year-old woman who cut her teeth on the staunchly Democratic politics of the state of Massachusetts.

Lisa M. Walker, a University of Massachusetts graduate who has been teaching political science at Ole Miss the past year, this week became the first woman to be named executive director of the state Democratic Party.

An engaging brunette with long hair and business-like wire-rimmed glasses, Walker beat out 31 other candidates for the $28,000 a year party post, which has been technically vacant since the spring of 1987.

Her key task right off will be to build bridges between the two present power centers of the Democratic party, namely Gov. Ray Mabus, the nominal head of the party, and Ed Cole, the state party chairman who Mabus tried unsuccessfully to oust last year.

Although a sort of détente has existed between Mabus and Cole, there has been no real communication between them. One reason Walker got the job, party insiders say, is that she was not the personal choice of either Mabus or Cole and came without any baggage in any particular camp.

Walker is optimistic that she can bring rapprochement between the Mabus and Cole factions as well as keep the delicate black-white coalition within the party from being torn apart.

"I'm a very good organizer and I hope to remain as open to everyone as possible," said the confident young woman. Even before she officially came aboard, she had breakfast with Mabus at the governor's mansion last Friday when they met for the first time.

Although Cole reportedly preferred another candidate for the job, a member of the administration committee which selected Walker said the state party chairman gave a strong endorsement of her when the committee made its final selection.

Cole told this column he was satisfied with the choice of Walker because "she was selected by a really open process."

Although Walker has credentials of having worked in Washington for former Massachusetts Sen. Paul Tsongas and as an advance person for the Mondale-Ferraro campaign in 1984, what evidently sold her was that she had worked in the successful 1987 campaign of state Rep. Bill Wheeler of Belmont.

Wheeler and Walker had met and began dating when both were in graduate school at George Washington University in Washington D.C. three years ago. Now the two are planning to get married.

"Bill is the reason I came to Mississippi," Walker says. When Wheeler asked her to come down and work in his legislative race in Tishomingo and Itawamba counties in the summer of 1987, she came gladly.

"It was an old-fashioned campaign. We went door-to-door and spoke off the back of flatbed trucks, the whole bit," Walker says.

"Although they know from the first syllable that I wasn't from here, I got along very well with the people."

Anyone who has knocked on doors campaigning in that political hotbed of Northeast Mississippi has had a baptism in Mississippi grass-roots politics.

Walker realizes that the state Democratic Party is at a low ebb in the wake of last November's presidential and senatorial disasters. But she believes that party is still very strong on the local level.

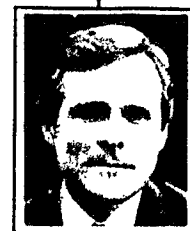

"The party is definitely not dead," she said. "People just need to have a reason to get active again. We have to start building our own momentum, image-wise and morale-wise."

Getting young people back into the Democratic fold will be one of her major targets. "Young people have been going to the Republican party because there was a vacuum," Walker said. "That's why we have to make the Democratic Party more visible and provide leadership."

One other Democratic staff position which the party plans to fill in the next month is to hire a fulltime finance director.

Meantime, Cole is planning to revive the state Democratic Finance Council, which has been languishing since Mabus has been governor because he has not replaced the 30 or so money people who dropped off the council after Bill Allain went out of office.

Look for former Gov. William Winter to be named to head up the finance council.

New state educational goals to be released by governor

We started out in 1982 as an emerging struggle to improve education, and the quality of life in Mississippi has blossomed into a crusade.

Mississippi has become a leader in education improvement, not a lagger. Since the Education Reform Act of 1982, our state has been seen as a doer and a state that is pulling itself up. We are looking to ourselves and our resources. In short, Mississippi is being viewed as a state that is doing better for its children and its future.

Despite our progress and the national attention it has drawn, there still are those who advise caution or retreat. They say we are going too far or we have done enough. To them I would point out that ignorance is far more costly than education—in dollars and in lives.

While we spend $2,500 for each child in this state on education, we spend about $10,000 for each inmate at Parchman! Nine out of ten of those inmates cannot read or write at a functional level.

Not only that, we spend $130 million a year in public assistance to teenage mothers and their families. All too often, these are people who fall into the trap of teenage pregnancy because they do not have jobs skills or a decent education.

To delay, defer or divert education improvements would be a very costly error—one Mississippi can ill afford.

But part of our continuing education crusade must be the assurance for all Mississippians that when children graduate they can read and write, do mathematics, speak a foreign language, and can do all the things that are necessary to make them competitive with students around the world.

That is basic.

We make business accountable. We make private citizens accountable. We are doing a better job of holding government accountable. Education should be accountable, too. This is a goal that involves teachers, administrators, parents, business people and students.

Clearly, great progress has been made over the past seven years, but huge obstacles remain. The rest of the world is racing forward, and we must run harder and faster to make sure we stay in the race.

Our education crusade is picking up strength again this year, and the nation's eyes will be upon us as we put together an education improvement package second to none.

In August, I plan to unveil a series of education goals for where we want to be at the turn of the century, just ten years away. These goals—based on comments from thousands of Mississippians and months of research—will help us chart a course toward a world-class system of public education in Mississippi.

It is no longer enough to seek progress for the sake of progress. Mississippi must set forth in these goals progress substantial enough to allow our citizens to compete—in jobs and in life. Then we need only come up with the programs that will allow us to achieve these goals.

No matter who you are or where you live in Mississippi, it's your fight because the quality of public education affects the quality of jobs in this state. No matter what school your children go to or whether you have children at all, it's your fight because you are paying for public education.

This is everybody's fight.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Officials urged to consider beachfront multi-use path

To the Editor:

Most people will agree that Hancock County's beachfront is one of its greatest assets, if not its greatest asset. Our supervisors and the Beach Committee are to be congratulated for their efforts to maintain and develop this prime asset.

In our reconstruction of our beach west of Washington Street, I believe that every effort should be made to include a walking/jogging/bicycling path eight to 10 feet wide between the road and the beach. Hundreds of citizens are presently using what is now a dangerous obstacle course. Thousands would use and enjoy a reasonably safe and adequate path.

Many other areas from Florda to Maine have developed such multiple-use paths, all of which have been very popular. The facility in front of Hancock Medical Center's utilization in hot, muggy weather points to the need for an adequate beachfront path.

Fellow citizens with whom I have spoken favor such a path and believe that, with much effort, state and federal assistance might be obtained.

A delay of even a year to include such a facility would be reasonable. Other citizens who have thoughts on this subject might write to the supervisors and the Beach Committee c/o Hancock County Courthouse.

Sincerely,
Robert W. Breeden

Attendance at open house shows space program support

Dear Editor:

On behalf of the John C. Stennis Space Center, we salute the residents of the Mississippi Gulf Coast for the overwhelming response the center received during its Open House celebration Sunday, July 16 in commemoration of the Apollo 11 lift-off which took the first men to the moon.

Some 13,000 people attended making this celebration one of the greatest events of its kind in the history of the Stennis Space Center. I think Sunday's extraordinary attendance is indicative of the support Americans possess for the nation's space program.

For over 20 years this nation has reaped tremendous benefits from the space program; benefits that have contributed greatly to America's economy, to medical research and development, and directly or indirectly to create a better life for us all.

But most of all, it sent a message across this planet that this country's greatness is not limited to the boundaries of its continent or the bonds of Earth's atmosphere. And, the Mississippi Gulf Coast has been a part of that greatness.

Sincerely,
Mack Herring

Case for saving Army ammo plant stated in magazine advertisement

The following is the text of an advertisement to be published in the national military magazine National Defense News in an attempt to state the case for keeping the Mississippi Army Ammunition Plant open past the scheduled 1992 closing date. The cost of the advertisement will be absorbed by Pearl River, Hancock and Harrison counties and St. Tammany parish in Louisiana.

How do you measure peacetime commitment to a strong America?

Simple. By the people and communities supporting this nation's military establishment by offering their labor, their natural resources and their economic future.

In South Mississippi and Louisiana, the counties of Hancock, Pearl River and Harrison, as well as neighboring St. Tammany Parish, La., a commitment has been made to provide top-notch educational opportunities and vocational-technical facilities, ample city and county services, a modern, safe highway and road system, quality hospitals and medical care, recreational programs and professional police and fire protection to add to a wholesome community atmosphere and pleasant lifestyle.

When the Army decided to build the most modern ammunition plant in the world, the first to be built by this nation in almost 40 years, a site was selected at the John C. Stennis Space Center. In 1978 construction began on the $644 million plant, said to be a totally computerized, high-tech, self-contained munitions plant capable of turning out vast quantities of the M483 artillery projectile quickly, safely and economically.

Line production today is estimated at around 20,000 rounds per month, with the plant currently operating at around 80 percent of capacity. The cost per shell has fallen from $1,100 to $417 per unit, contradicting a Government Accounting Office report containing old production figures.

The Mississippi Army Ammunition Plant employs over 1,700 workers. Over the past five years since the ammo plant's operations began, the communities around the site have grown with a whole generation of plant workers.

These employees have bought homes, are raising families and paying taxes to support their local governments and school districts. They buy groceries, new cars and t.v.'s from the businesses that have sprung up in their cities and towns. The cycle of reciprocity has been working.

The financial impact the plant's operation brings to the surrounding economies is vital to hundreds of businesses and thousands of families. The MAAP has a $48.6 million payroll responsible for over $22 million in retail sales. The plant accounts for a regional impact of nearly $167 million annually.

Over $20 million is pumped into the economy with orders for goods and services. Plant purchase orders constitute a $16.3 million financial boost to business communities in a 150 radius of the facility. These figures represent more than just dollars and cents. They represent security, prosperity and opportunity for the sons and daughters of this nation.

The Army is now committed to shutting down the plant. The official line says a 35-day supply of M483 projectiles are on hand in case of a military emergency. The plant's original production demands called for a 65-day peacetime supply of artillery shells. The cost to "mothball" the MAAP? Official sources say between $80 and $100 million, with a maintenance cost after the shut-down estimated at $13 million a year.

A united effort is being staged by every element of the communities involved. City, county and state officials have banded together with business and civic leaders to help Mississippi's congressional delegation bring out the facts about the plant's operations and the economic disaster looming if the plant closes.

There are options. If the right leaders in Washington get the message.

Commitment is an American watchword; without it, there is no sustaining drive, no will to be vigilant and prepared. The communities serving the MAAP have made their commitment to keeping America strong and free in peacetime.

Today, they face the possibility of an economic war they can ill afford to wage. The plant's future is based on munition appropriations to be decided by the Congress of the United States. The future of the MAAP will be decided shortly, and unless the Army offers a viable alternative to closure, the plant will cease operation early next year.

Does the commitment of one, small corner of this nation count in peacetime America? The thousands of people financially affected by the plant's operation are depending on it.

Tupaz replaces Esau in NORDA change of command ceremony

Capt. Jesus B. Tupaz of Long Beach will relieve Capt. Anthony C. Esau of Diamondhead as commanding officer of the Naval Ocean Research and Development Activity (NORDA) in change of command ceremonies at Stennis Space Center July 21 at 10 a.m.

at Oregon State University and a graduate of Long Beach High School, and Paul Andrew, sophomore at the University of California, Davis and a former student in the Long Beach School System.

A native of San Pedro, Calif., Tupaz was graduated from San Pedro High School as class valedictorian in 1956. He earned a bachelor's degree with distinction from the U.S. Naval Academy in 1960. He holds both a master's degree and a doctorate in meteorology and mathematics from the Naval Postgraduate School, Monterey.

Tupaz was designated a naval aviator in 1961 at Corpus Christi, Texas. From 1962 to 1965, he was assigned to Patrol Squadron 26 where he served as Patrol Plane Commander in an SP-2E Neptune aircraft. From 1967 to 1969, he served on the faculty of the Naval Academy, where he taught oceanography and meteorology. Then, from 1969 to 1970, he was assigned as the U.S. Navy Liaison Officer with the U.S. Air Force in Udorn, Thailand.

From 1970 to 1972, Tupaz served as the quality control officer, and later as operations officer of then Fleet Numerical Weather Central in Monterey.

He served as meteorological officer aboard USS Otiskany (CV-34), and on the staff of Carrier Task Force 77 from 1975 to 1976.

Between 1976 and 1978, Tupaz was the acting director of research, and later the executive officer of the Naval Environmental Prediction Research Facility in Monterey. He then reported to the Pacific Missile Test Center, Point Mugu, Calif. for duty as the geophysics officer from 1978 to 1980.

While at PMTC, Tupaz served as Range Surveillance Aircraft commander in the ES-2 Tracker aircraft and on the PMTC Science Advisory Board.

From July 1980 to August 1982, Tupaz served as the commanding officer of the Naval Oceanography Command Center/Joint Typhoon Warning Center, Guam.

He then reported to the staff of the Oceanographer of the Navy and served as the Staff Environmental Prediction officer until August of 1983 when he reported to the Naval Oceanography Command at Stennis.

Tupaz holds the Bronze Star, the Meritorious Service Medal with a First Gold Star, the Air Medal with First Oak Leaf Cluster, the Navy Commendation Medal with a First Gold Star, the Meritorious Unit Commendation Medal, the National Defense Medal with Bronze Star, the Republic of Vietnam Service Medal and the Republic of Vietnam Campaign Medal.

CAPT. JESUS TUPAZ

Rear Adm. John R. Wilson Jr., Chief of Naval Research, will serve as presiding officer of the formal ceremony at which Dr. Fred E. Saalfeld, director of the Office of Naval Research, Washington, D.C., will deliver the keynote speech.

His new assignment at NORDA allows Tupaz and his family to return to the local area following his three-year tour as commanding officer of the Fleet Numerical Oceanography Center at Monterey. From September 1983 until June 1986, he served as deputy commander of the Naval Oceanography Command at Stennis.

Tupaz is married to the former Maria E. Avelar of San Salvador, El Salvador. They have two sons, Jesse David, a senior

When It Comes To Medical Emergencies, How Well Is Your Family Covered?

Many insurance policies carry a hefty deductible. And most will only pay a percentage of your bills. If you have Medicare, it pays even less.

For example an average ride in an ambulance for a Medicare recipient costs $368. And Medicare only pays $58 of that.

Which is why you should give your family the protection they deserve by joining Mobile Medic Ambulance Service today.

As a member, you'll get the full benefit of all our emergency services. And you'll never pay one cent

Plentiful, fresh corn adds special flair to summer meals

Fresh, tender corn from near by fields is available now for eating pleasure. Fresh corn on the cob is a favorite summer vegetable.

You can buy it year-round in many areas, but it is most plentiful and less expensive during summer, so tuck some in the freezer for meal enjoyment later. Shop farmers markets and produce centers and get it as fresh as possible.

are still grown by Indians. Searchers have not succeeded in finding wild maize or the wild parent from which it first came.

Sweet corn varieties provide the predominate supply of corn for retail markets during most of the year. However, during the season when field corn, other varieties that are generally grown for use as mature corn, is growing it is often harvested at that immature and field corn may be either white or yellow varieties and may generally be used interchangeably in menus according to the stage of maturity.

When you buy corn by the ear, you may find it either husked or partially husked and prepackaged, or with the husks still on the ear.

In prepackaged corn, look for well-filled kernels and avoid

If you buy corn at the grocery store, look for corn displayed in a refrigerated case, or with some means of cooling. Keeping corn cool is one of the most important keys to the delicious sweet flavor that makes corn such a favorite food.

This sweet flavor of the corn is due to the sugar content in the kernels. It's at its peak at the time the corn is not cooled quickly and kept cool, the sugar rapidly turns to starch, and the sweet flavor is lost.

Many growers today hydro-cool the corn. This method of cooling involves spraying the ears with ice water quite soon after they are picked. Submerging the corn in an ice slush is another method used.

When you get the fresh corn home, you also should refrigerate it promptly. You may leave the corn in husks and put the ears into a plastic bag.

Since corn is at its best when first picked, it's a good idea to use it in one to two days after purchase, before the flavor begins to deteriorate.

For quick corn-on-the-cob eating, it's a simple matter of popping husked ears into boiling water for a few minutes—and they're ready to eat.

For juicier corn, cook in boiling water and add a little butter when served. If you want a true "roastin' ear" on the outdoor grill, you can roast the corn with or without the husks. Corn also cooks up perfect in the microwave.

Corn is good while the harvest of nearby crops is at its peak but it will also have a well-come spot in winter menus if you properly prepare and freeze some.

Contact your county extension home economist for the latest information on freezing corn and other vegetables now available.

GOOD FOOD BUYS

This vegetable which nature so carefully packs in the zip-packs of nature is known as corn. It is a favorite of the world's known by its American Indian name of "maize."

Maize is a plant that grows in the Americas, and is a very important food source for the people of the Americas.

stage when the kernels are just filled with the milky, juicy goodness.

It is splendid for table use and is preferred by some for creamstyle corn because of the excellent thickening characteristic.

The field corn ears are generally larger than sweet corn and are less sweet. Both sweet dry looking kernels and those with dents. This is a sign of age. When the corn has the husks still on, look for snugly fitting husks that are bright green in color.

Dark brown silks should be sticking out the end and be shiny and silky, not dry. Prices are usually set per ear or half-dozen during the summer months.

COOKING UP A STORM

By Katy McGuire
Caire

Chicken, or whatever pieces you have on hand, adding chopped mushrooms and green onions and sautéing, along with cut-up tomatoes, and simmer the whole business until the chicken is tender, then serve over rice.

One of my all-time easy favorites is:

CHICKEN AND ARTICHOKE

Whole chicken breasts, skin removed or substituted, breast quarters, pieces, or small.

3 to 4 carrots, sliced
12 lb. fresh mushrooms, sliced

1 can (14 oz.) artichoke hearts, drained and halved or quartered

1/4 cup oil

1/2 cup chopped green onion

1/2 cups chicken broth

1/2 cup sherry or white wine

2 Tbsp. cornstarch

Pepper, salt, cayenne to your taste

A bit of fresh or dried thyme, optional

Brown the chicken in the hot oil in a large skillet, of course, then simmer, covered, for five minutes or so, adding the mushrooms and artichoke hearts, along with the green onions and seasonings, and continue simmering for 10 minutes. If you're using thyme, add it at this point.

Meanwhile, in a smaller saucepan, mix together the broth, sherry and cornstarch, stirring well, and cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until it thickens.

Place the chicken-mushroom-artichoke combo in a greased baking dish, a shallow one, and pour the sauce over. Bake at 375 degrees for 45 minutes or so, until done, basting from time to time with the pan drippings. (Six servings.)

Note: You may substitute chicken bouillon cubes or granules for the broth, but remember to eliminate or adjust additional salt. I prefer to make my own stock with chicken wings or backs and such, and freeze it in small containers or ice cube trays for use as needed.

Public Notices

ORDINANCE NO. 193

On Motion of Alderman Friot seconded by Alderman Hubbard it was moved that the following Ordinance be adopted: to wit:

AN ORDINANCE REGULATING THE REMOVAL OF LIVE OAK AND MAGNOLIA TREES WITHIN THE CITY OF WAVELAND, MISSISSIPPI, AND PROVIDING A REMEDY FOR VIOLATIONS THEREOF.

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE MAYOR AND BOARD OF ALDERMEN OF WAVELAND, MISSISSIPPI, AS FOLLOWS: TO WIT:

SECTION I. Purpose and Intent. The Mayor and Board of Aldermen find that it is necessary to protect the existing live oak and magnolia trees within the City of WaveLand in order to maintain air quality, defend ecological integrity and preserve beauty and tranquility of said City and adopt this Ordinance in the interest of the Health, Safety and General Welfare of the residents of said City.

SECTION II. Definition. The trees covered by this Ordinance are defined as "live oak and magnolia trees" of the size hereinafter indicated:

SECTION III. Removal of live oak and magnolia trees—Permit Required.

A. Without a permit therefor, it shall be unlawful for any person firm or corporation to cut down, remove, destroy or effectively destroy through damaging any live oak or magnolia tree with a trunk size of more than 18 inches in diameter measured at a point three feet above ground level, growing within the City of WaveLand.

B. A permit for the cutting down or destruction of a live oak or magnolia tree or trees as herein described shall be issued only if the tree or trees proposed to be cut are in such poor health or bad physical condition as to be a hazard to human safety, or if proposed construction located in such a way as to preserve the tree or trees.

SECTION IV. Permit for cutting of live oak or magnolia trees—Procedure.

A. Application. Any person, firm or corporation desiring to cut down any live oak or magnolia tree or trees as described in Section III shall file an application with the City Building Inspector accompanied by a fee of Twenty-five Dollars ($25.00). Each application shall state the legal description of the property on which the tree or trees is located, the mail address and telephone number of the applicant, the reason for the request. Concurrent with the application the applicant shall mark each tree proposed to be cut with a tag.

B. Inspection. Within ten days of the receipt of such application the City Building Inspector shall inspect such tree or trees and indicate on said application.

C. The approximate spread and the actual trunk circumference from which shall be calculated, diameter, measured at a point three feet above ground level, of the tree or trees.

D. The health and physical condition of the tree or trees.

3. Whether or not in his opinion removal is justified by reason of:

a. The poor health or dangerous condition of the tree or trees.

b. Construction or other improvements to be made on the property.

C. Approval or Denial. The City Planning and Zoning Board shall review the application together with the information gathered under Section 4, and make a recommendation to the Mayor and Board of Aldermen. If the application is denied, by the Planning and Zoning Board, the written notice of such action specifying the cause thereof and the reasons therefor shall be mailed to the applicant at the address shown in such application. If approved, the Building Inspector shall issue the permit to the applicant.

D. Permit Non-Transferable; Restricted. Any permit issued hereunder is not transferable from one tree to another tree, shall expire three months from date of issuance, and shall expire in the event a specific construction project for which it was issued is cancelled.

SECTION V. Remaining Trees to be Protected.

Prior to cutting down any live oak or magnolia tree, as herein described, and pursuant to a permit issued hereunder, the applicant shall protect all other trees in the vicinity of those to be cut which could be damaged in the process. It shall be unlawful for any person to cut any trees on City property. Any person convicted of this offense shall be punished in accordance with Section X of this Ordinance.

SECTION VI. Method of Appeal. Any applicant who deems himself aggrieved by an alleged error in any order, requirement, decision or determination made by the Planning and Zoning Board in the administration of the Ordinance may appeal to the Mayor and Board of Aldermen in the following manner, to wit:

A. The applicant, within thirty (30) days of any such order, requirement, decision or determination shall file a written appeal with the City Clerk setting forth the action being appealed and the fact relating thereof, and mailing address of the applicant.

B. Each such appeal shall be accompanied by a payment in sufficient amount to cover the cost of publishing and mailing notices of hearing or hearings.

C. The Mayor and Board of Aldermen at its regular meeting after receipt by the City Clerk of such appeal shall set a date for hearing thereon, which shall not be later than thirty (30) days after the meeting. A notice of the date, time, place and subject of the hearing shall be published in the official newspaper of the City at least ten (10) days prior to the hearing. After hearing the oral or written views of all interested persons, the Mayor and Board shall make its decision at the same or a specified future meeting thereof.

SECTION VII. Amendments to Application.

The applicant may amend his application at any time prior to the final determination of an appeal by the Mayor and Board of Aldermen and the Mayor and Board of Aldermen shall consider and decide any appeal based upon the application amended.

SECTION IX. Adoption. The provisions of this Ordinance shall not apply the removal of trees from City-owned property by Order of the Mayor and Board of Aldermen for reasons of public safety.

SECTION X. Penalties. Violation of this Ordinance shall be a misdemeanor punishable by a fine not to exceed $1,000.00 per tree illegally removed or damaged, or imprisonment for not more than thirty (30) days, or both, and in addition, payment of all costs of prosecution and expenses involved in the case.

SECTION XI. Validity. That if for any reason, any portion, part, section, or paragraph of this Ordinance be held to be invalid or unconstitutional, it shall not affect the remainder thereof.

SECTION XII. Effective Date. That this Ordinance shall become effective thirty (30) days from the date of its adoption and shall be published and posted as required by law and placed in the Ordinance Book of the City of WaveLand, Mississippi, and said Ordinance shall repeal and supersede any other Ordinance on said subject.

The above and foregoing Ordinance having been first reduced to writing was read and considered section by section and then as a whole at a regular meeting of the Mayor and Board of Aldermen on June 21, 1989, and the vote passage was as follows:

Those voting Yes: Alderman Rappold, Alderman Hubbard, Alderman Friot.

Those voting Nay: None.

Alderman Colson was absent.

Adopted by the Mayor and Board of Aldermen of the City of WaveLand, Mississippi, on the 21st day of June 1989.

Summer veggies, Tex-Mex style add flavor to microwave omelet

If you're like most microwave oven owners, you use your machine most for reheating leftovers and defrosting frozen foods. However, there's a treasure of other uses for this time-saving appliance—it's simply a matter of learning the techniques.

For instance, cooking omelets in the microwave can save time, keep the kitchen cool and produce an especially tender, delicately colored product.

The secrets of success are to use a lightly greased pan for easy removal and a tight-fitting cover which traps steam to help cook the omelet evenly. Consistent rotation of the cooking dish also helps. Fillings are usually heated in the microwave before the omelets are cooked.

Fiesta-In-A-Flash Omelet is filled with colorful (and plentiful) summer vegetables—corn and tomatoes—and seasoned Southwestern-style with zesty green chilies and chili powder. At only 402 calories per serving, it's a dish rich in vitamin C, protein, vitamin A and calcium.

But don't stop there. Now that you know how to cook omelets in the microwave, experiment with different fillings—sweet or savory. Omelets make an inexpensive, nutritious entree for any meal of the day.

FIESTA-IN-A-FLASH OMELET

2 servings
1 cup corn kernels (cut from about 2 ears)*

2 tablespoons chopped green chilies

1/8 teaspoon chili powder

1/2 cup chopped tomato, drained

4 eggs 1/4 cup water

1/4 teaspoon salt

1/8 teaspoon pepper

1 tablespoon butter, divided

1/2 cup (2 oz.) shredded Cheddar cheese, divided

Sliced pitted ripe olives, optional

Cilantro sprigs, optional

In small bowl, stir together corn, chilies and chili powder. Cover and cook on full power until hot, about 1 1/4 minutes. Stir in tomato. Let stand, covered.

In small bowl, beat together eggs, water, salt and pepper until blended. Set aside.

For each omelet, in 9-inch pie plate, cook 1/2 tablespoon butter on full power until melted, about 45 seconds. Spread to coat bottom of plate. Pour about 1/2 egg mixture into plate. Cover tightly with plastic wrap.

Cook on full power about 2 minutes, rotating 1/4 turn every 30 seconds. Do not stir. When center is set but still moist, fill with 1/2 cup reserved corn mixture and about 2 tablespoons cheese.

With pancake turner, fold omelet in half or roll and slide from pie plate onto serving plate. Top with an additional 1/4 cup reserved corn mixture and 2 tablespoons cheese. Garnish with olives and cilantro, if desired.

SECTION B

THE SEA COAST ECHO—THURSDAY, JULY 20, 1989-1B

Time Out

By Dena Bisnette

Today's Time Out includes two items mentioning drugs. In a sports column, there really shouldn't be a mention of drugs at all, but if there must be, I like the kind of anti-drug abuse attitude in today's column.

Athletes tax their bodies more than most folks, and that may cause more potential for injury and use of legitimate medications. Drug abuse, however, seems to me to be contrary to the basic premise of athletics—fair competition.

In my opinion, using drugs to enhance athletic performance is a form of cheating. There are too many honest ways to enhance performance; a few of them include the self-discipline to participate in regular training, work-out programs complimentary to the sport and a good background in the sport's fundamentals.

Use of drugs and other forms of cheating prove to me that the athlete using them has lost sight of the basic premise of sports and cares only about winning.

Student Athletes Detest Drugs, a group of Bay Senior High students, is conducting a camp for seventh and eighth graders Aug. 2-4 at the Bay Junior High gymnasium.

There is no admission charge for the camp, which is designed to help students avoid giving in to peer pressure and becoming involved with drugs.

For more information, contact Kathy Edwards at 467-5599.

Dr. D.J. Inkol, a Pass Christian chiropractor also known in this area for his assistance to the Hancock North Central football team, recently attended the first annual Arnold Schwarzenegger Classic bodybuilding contest and nutrition and training seminar in Columbus, Ohio.

In addition to Schwarzenegger, the presenters at the event included Larry Scott and Dr. Bob Goldman, both well known among bodybuilders. Discussion topics included correct weight training, dietary nutritional considerations for athletes and abuse of steroids.

It sounds like some of this should come in handy for the Hawks this coming football season.

The Bay St. Louis Babe Ruth All-Stars will travel to McComb for state play-offs Friday and Saturday.

The team, coached by Chip Merrigan and J.D. Rutherford, will represent District Six, having clinched that title by defeating Long Beach 7-5 last week.

I understand the win over Long Beach was a good team effort, with Burnell Dedaux credited as winning pitcher.

We wish the team good luck and hope to see more of the same solid playing in McComb.

In this column, I usually don't publicize many events outside of Hancock County unless they're also of local interest. Since I have heard of no local racquetball facilities, this junior racquetball class might attract some Hancock County people.

The three-week class is for anyone 13-18 at Herbert Wilson Recreation Center in Gulfport and will be Tuesday and Thursday from 1:30 p.m. until 2:30 p.m., beginning Aug. 1.

Fee is $10 and a can of Penn racquet balls. Deadline for enrollment is July 28 and more information is available at 868-5777.

William Carey College is hosting two soccer camps, one July 23-28 at its Hattiesburg campus and one July 31-Aug. 4 at the Gulfport campus.

Boys and girls ages six to 16 may participate as either overnight or day campers at Hattiesburg with day campers only being accepted at Gulfport. Fees are $95 for day campers and $155 for overnight and include balls and T-shirts. WCC Head Soccer Coach Doug Stovall will be camp director.

More information is available at 865-1500.

Bay St. Louis Little League will have a general membership meeting Tuesday at 7 p.m. at Bay St. Louis City Hall. Officers for the coming year will be elected.

Bay St. Louis Little League has also scheduled its annual awards banquet, which will be 7 p.m. Wednesday at American Legion Post 139.

The meal is free to players, managers and coaches. All others are asked to make donations of $3 per adult and $1.50 per child to help defray costs. The menu includes spaghetti with meatballs, cole slaw, french bread, soft drinks and dessert.

Lagarde, Heitzmann compete in sectionals

BY DENA BISNETTE

Local tennis players Lis Lagarde and Ann Heitzmann, two of four players representing Mississippi in the Volvo League Southern Sectionals Championship last week, topped the first bracket.

Lagarde said the competition, which was played in Columbia, S.C., was divided into two brackets of five teams each.

In winning the first bracket, the Mississippi team placed about third overall, she added.

The team lost its first match to North Carolina, then took three consecutive victories against South Carolina, Tennessee and Georgia.

Bay High to host first annual Ladners' School of Basketball

Bay High will host the first annual Ladners' School of Basketball for boys and girls grades three through 12 July 24-28 at the Tiger Dome gymnasium.

Registration for the five-day camp will be from 4:30 p.m. until 6 p.m. with camp beginning that same night, according to Michael Ladner, Bay High coach and one of the camp directors.

Camp hours are 6 p.m. until 9 p.m. However, the gymnasium will be open from 4:30 p.m. for campers who wish to practice shooting or watch instructional films.

In addition to Michael Ladner, camp directors and coaches include Jay Ladner, a member of the 1987 University of Southern Mississippi National Invitational Championship Team.

Special guest speakers and coaches include Roland Ladner, currently head coach at Pearl River Central High School and record-holder as winningest active high school boys' basketball coach in Mississippi.

Also featured as a special guest will be University of Southern Mississippi Department of Coaching and Administration Basketball Specialist J. Larry Ladner, who is also a former Picayune High School Coach.

Coach Michael Ladner said the camp will focus largely on the fundamentals of the game to help participants improve their current skills and develop new ones.

Fees are $50 per person, with family rates of $75 for two players and $100 for three players. In addition, a $45 per person team rate is available if five or more members of a current team enroll. Enrollment is limited to the first 100 participants.

Camp fees include a camp T-shirt. Concessions will be available.

Registration may be mailed to Ladner School of Basketball, P.O. Box 2633, Bay St. Louis MS 39520 or may be made by calling Michael Ladner at 467-3107 and 255-3393.

my Strong Jr., Sylvester Harrington, Bernie Sy, Ronald Aultman and coach Jimmy Strong. The team competes in the state tournament beginning Friday in Long Beach. Their first game is at 10 a.m. against McComb. (Echo staff photo by D.C. Harvill)

Annual Kids Fishing Rodeo set by Sportsman's Club

BY ELLIS CUEVAS

The sixth annual Gulf Coast Sportsman's Club Kids Fishing Rodeo is scheduled for Saturday, July 29 from 6 a.m. to 5 p.m.

The rodeo will be open to boys and girls ages 13 and under, according to Shorty Karl, rodeo chairman.

The rodeo headquarters will be the American Legion Memorial Pier, Beach Boulevard and Washington Street, Bay St. Louis.

Early registration forms can be obtained from Sam's Auto, Old Spanish Trail, Bay St. Louis or at the headquarters on the day of the rodeo until 2 p.m.

Registration is free.

In the fresh water division, prizes will be awarded for the largest green trout (bass) and perch.

Prizes will be awarded in the saltwater division for the largest speckled trout, redfish, croaker, white trout, flounder, ground mullet and largest fish.

Karl emphasized no catfish or stingrays will be accepted. "This is for the safety of the children participating," Karl added.

There will be a special crab division for ages six and under. All fish must be caught on the day of the rodeo in any waters in the area from piers, shore line, boats or wading. Fish entered must be caught by registrants.

Sportsman's Club members will handle the scales and the weighmaster's decisions are final.

Each registrant will also receive a free hot dog and Coke, Sammy Perniciaro Jr., vice-president said.

Last year some 400 plus boys and girls participated in the fishing rodeo.

Trophies will be given for first, second and third place in each category.

Scales will close at 5 p.m. While the winners are announced in each category, drawings will be held for a large number of special prizes.

Many of the prizes for the rodeo are being donated to the Sportsman's Club by local merchants.

If any merchant has not been contacted and is interested in donating a prize, he may contact Karl at 467-2602, or Perniciaro at 467-5324.

Bo Jordan is president of the Sportsman's Club, which has 30 active members. The group meets the second Wednesday of each month at 7:30 p.m. at the American Legion Home, Green Meadow Road, Bay St. Louis.

Babe Ruth teams head to state tournaments

BY DENA BISNETTE
Two Bay St. Louis Babe Ruth All-Star baseball teams are on their way to state play-offs.

The 13 year olds will go to Long Beach Friday, with their first game at 10 a.m. against McComb.

The 14-15 year olds are going to McComb.

The 13-year-old All-Stars, according to Coach Monty Strong, go into the play-offs after a success in the 13-year-old district tournament at Orange Grove.

In the tournament, Bay St. Louis won four of the five games, defeating Bayou View 15-11 and 14-4 and Orange Grove 12-2 and 17-8. Bay's only loss was in the second game, a 12-1 defeat by Orange Grove.

The 14-15 year olds, coached by Chip Merrigan and J.D. Rutherford, go to McComb Friday and Saturday for the double-elimination tournament.

They go into the state play-offs after winning the District 6 title, defeating Long Beach 7-5 last week at Bay High Stadium.

Colortyme Career Girls advance to State Class B

The Colortyme Career Girls' softball team of Bay St. Louis won the Women's ASA Class B District slow pitch softball tournament in Ocean Springs July 15-16.

Bud Light of Biloxi won second place and the Lady Angels of Biloxi finished third place.

Enroute to the championship, the Colortyme Girls defeated Knight's Printing 5-3, Bud Light 6-4, and the Lady Angels 1-0. Bud Light beat Colortyme in the semifinals 2-1 after nine innings but Colortyme defeated Bud Light in the finals 7-2.

Colortyme now advances as the top seed from the Gulf Coast region to the State Class B Tournament which will be held in Columbus Aug. 4-6.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION FOR SOLID WASTE MANAGEMENT PERMIT
The Hancock County Board of Supervisors, P.O. Box 429, Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, has applied for a permit to operate a solid waste disposal facility in northeast Hancock County. The proposed site, consisting of 75.7 acres, is located approximately two miles east of Mississippi Highway 603 and directly south of Rocky Hill Road in the Standard Community in Section 16, Township 6 S., Range 14 W., Hancock County, Mississippi. The environmental impact of this project has been evaluated and the staff of the Permit Board believes that the proposed facility will not have a significant adverse impact on the environment. However, before proceeding further with the staff evaluation, public comments are being solicited. The staff recommendation to the Board, as well as the Board's decision, will be made only after a thorough consideration of all public comments. Persons wishing to comment upon or object to the proposed determinations are invited to submit comments in writing to Mr. Mark Williams at the above address, no later than August 22, 1989. All comments received by that date will be considered in the formation of final determinations regarding the application. A public hearing will be held if the Permit Board finds a significant degree of public interest in the proposed permit. The Permit Board is limited in the scope of its analysis to environmental impact. Any comments relative to zoning or economic and social impacts are within the jurisdiction of local zoning and planning authorities and should be addressed to them. All other details about the application and the proposed determination and a copy of the draft permit are available by writing or calling Mr. Mark Williams at the above address and telephone number. Also, this and other information is available for review and copying during normal business hours of the Mississippi Department of Natural Resources, Southport Center Building, 2380 Highway 80, Waveland, Mississippi 39482. Please bring the foregoing to the attention of persons whom you know will be interested.

THE SEA COAST ECHO—THURSDAY, JULY 20, 1989

SECTION C

The library

Everything you want to know and then some...

BY JANET MCQUEEN

You have just found out that your college roommate has moved to Chicago and you would love to write but don't know her address...

Your mother started taking a new prescription medication the same time that she developed severe headaches...

A recent inheritance has netted an unexpected $10,000 and you would like to dabble in the stock market...

Your 15-year-old sister is in love with Tom Cruise and would like to send a fan letter...

A part for your discontinued tractor has been rendered useless and you would like to know if another company manufactures a compatible part...

These diverse requests for information are all in a day's work for the staff of the City-County Library.

"Most people think of a librarian as someone who checks out books," said Prima Wusnack, Hancock County library director. "Most of our time is actually spent helping people find proper resources, in a one-on-one situation."

"I find that most people just need a refresher course in familiarizing themselves with the library," said Kay Wolfe, circulation supervisor. "Once we help someone one time, he can usually find his way around the next time."

Many people are unaware of the comprehensive resource center the library is. For instance: Telephone books (commercial and residential listings) from many large cities are purchased for customer convenience, with some costing as much as $40. Books from cities in the South Central Bell service area are provided to the library at no charge.

The section, a popular one, also boasts the V.I.P. Directory, which lists names and addresses of famous persons.

The Encyclopedia of Associations is quite useful to someone seeking the location of a support group or fellow hobby enthusiasts.

The Thomas Register of Manufacturers is a several volume set of books listing specific products or services by category or manufacturer with their respective addresses.

One volume provides product catalogs. All books are updated yearly.

"Every day someone uses this service," according to Wusnack. New business owners will research sources for wholesal-

"We are finding people to be more conscientious as consumers when it comes to health services," noted Wusnack. "They want to take an active part in matters that concern their health."

effects.

FINANCE

A finance resource bookshelf yields popular investment survey ValueLine and Standard and Poor's Register in addition to current tax law publications and consumer insurance information.

An extensive file on Internal Revenue Service forms and publications is kept.

TALKING BOOKS

For those no longer able to read or to hold a book, the library offers a special service called "Talking Books". Jointly funded by the Library of Congress and the Mississippi Library Commission, a special cassette player and tapes of books on virtually any subject are loaned to those who qualify for the program. A list of current titles available is provided each month.

Many users of the system have been referred by doctors or word-of-mouth, according to Wolfe.

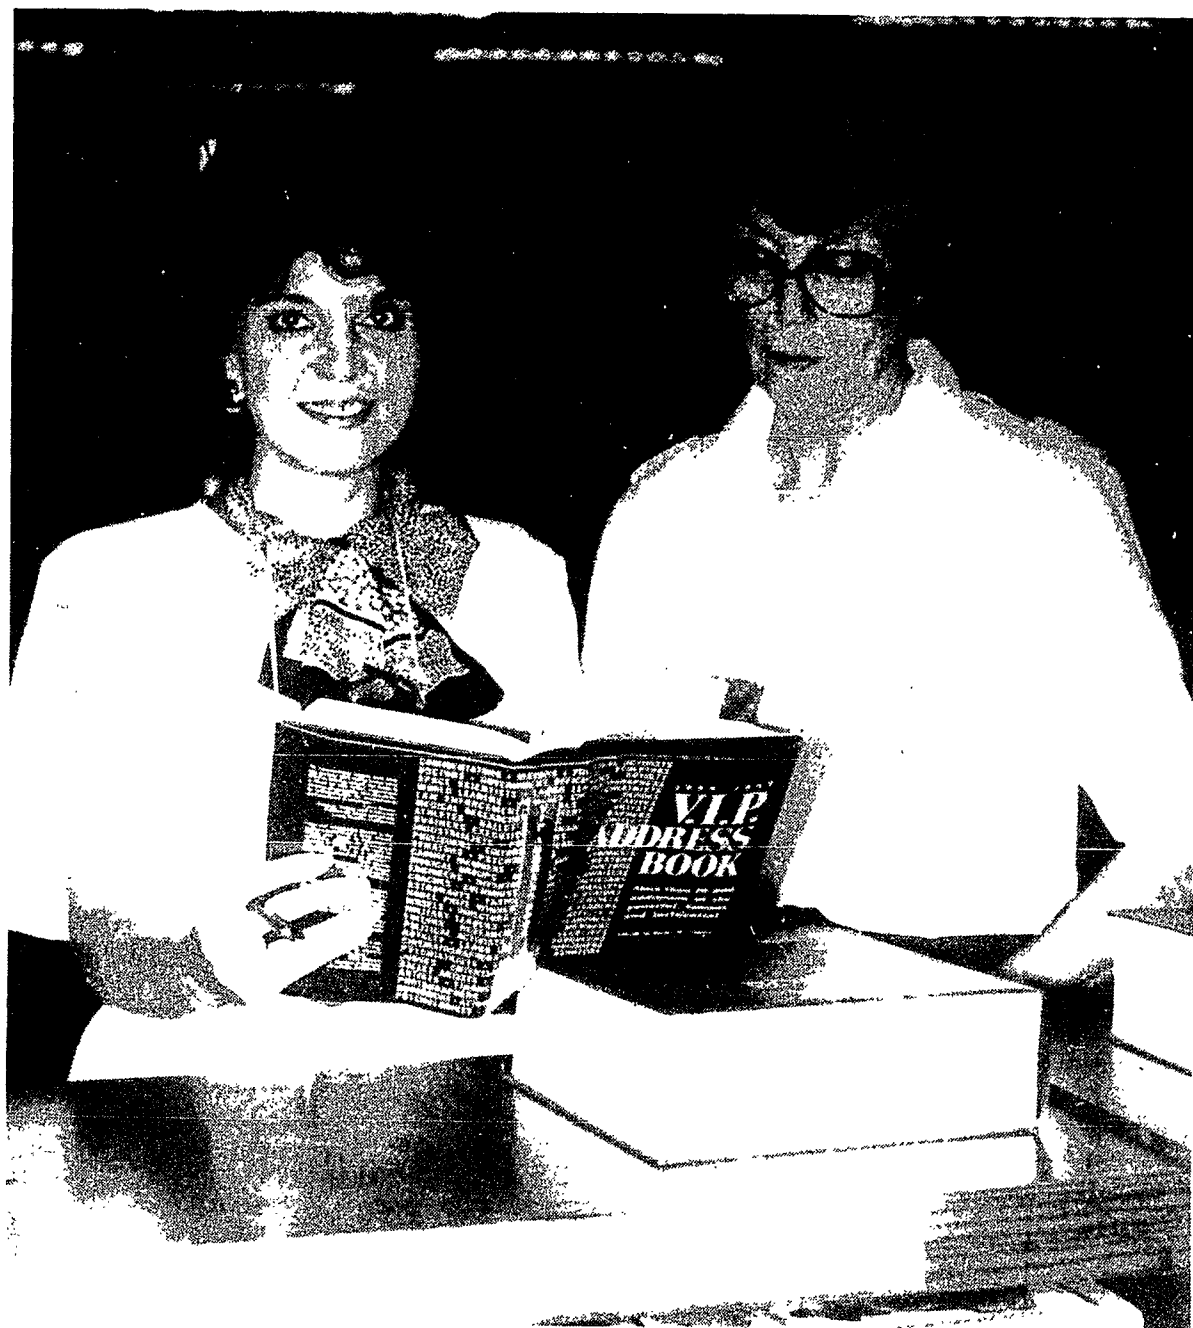

For elderly readers, a special section featuring books with 'large print' is available. Retired Diamondhead resident Robert Bond is a frequent visitor to the library, and notes that he is "a great reader of novels and the newspaper shelves".

"The cost of books is outrageous," he said. He has received monetary gifts to the library well-spent, and encourages others to contribute. "My off is multiplied by the person who will enjoy each page."

Bond has lived in Diamondhead, and notes that the library has as much to offer any he has seen. "It is a great library," he added.

If a piece of information eluding you, or you want a cool retreat from the summer heat—and improve your mind at the same time—visit the library.

Space program books commemorate lift-off

In celebration of the 20th anniversary of man's first walk on the moon by astronauts Neil Armstrong and Buzz Aldrin on July 20, 1969, the City-County Library in Bay St. Louis is featuring the following display of books on the space program which covers Apollo 15 (July 26, 1971) and Ranger 7 and Skylab 3 (July 28, 1968 and 1973).

These include:
Lift-off
Space History
NASA, the First 25 Years—1958-1983
Space Travel, A History
NASA—Views of Earth
History of Rocketry and Space Travel
The History of Manned Space Flight
First on the Moon
Return to Earth
For All Mankind
Carrying the Fire: An Astronaut's Journey

The public is invited to read these and other informational works on America's space program which are available at the local library.

Scianna enjoys working world as Walt Disney ticket hostess

Special to the Echo
By Stacey Reid

Having headless Disney characters and a Cinderella in sweat clothes as co-workers is not what Linda Scianna expected when she signed up for the University of Southern Mississippi Cooperative Education program last spring.

Scianna, a 20-year-old junior communications major from Bay St. Louis, encountered these behind-the-scenes surprises during a 14-week work assignment at Orlando's Walt Disney World.

"While working there, it was an experience to go backstage at the attractions and see the Disney characters walking around with their heads off to see Cinderella sitting around in sweat-soaked french fries," Scianna said.

Scianna, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Scianna, was a ticket hostess at Disney World's Magic Kingdom, where she sold tickets for a variety of attractions and assisted guests with the lines.

"I always been interested in the program and had seen the benefits of it, so I decided to go," Scianna said.

While living in the apartment complex at Disney, it's a far cry from the real world. "You spend all of your time at the resort," she said. "Yes, you are living with people from all over the world, but you have a chance to develop friendships."

Scianna said, "I benefited from the whole living experience, and I would encourage others to participate in the program regardless of their background."

Working in the real world can be an eye-opener for students whose previous experience has mainly been limited to the classroom.

Students encounter educational, work and living experiences in a unique Walt Disney World employment opportunity, which is available through the University of Southern Mississippi Cooperative Education program.

Students participating in the co-op program spend one semester living in Orlando, Fla., where they gain on-the-job experience while participating in weekly seminars taught by a Disney management team. Six USM students took advantage of the program during the 1989 spring semester.

"The Walt Disney World College program falls into a special category because it is not traditional cooperative education, in which the student alternates a semester of school with a semester of work," explained Ronnie Nettles, coordinator of the USM Cooperative Education Program. "This program can be categorized as field study because it is a one-time experience for the student."

Nettles said that while participating in the Disney program, students make a commitment to their employers and are expected to do their best in upholding job responsibilities.

"Not only do students gain on-the-job experience, they also

SET SAIL FOR CAMP—The St. Stanislaus Varsity Cheerleaders left Monday morning for Elite Cheerleaders' Association summer workshop, July 17-21. This workshop, held at Mississippi Gulf Coast Community College in Perkinston, attracts more than 200 cheerleaders from Mississippi,

USM/Gulf Coast will introduce daytime classes next month

The University of Southern Mississippi Gulf Coast will introduce daytime classes next month following the Legislature's lifting of restrictions on evening offerings.

The move will allow USM to offer classes by 7 p.m. with evening classes continuing.

USM Gulf Coast will offer a variety of classes, including English, mathematics, science, and social sciences. The move is part of a larger effort to expand the university's reach into the community.

Dr. Bill Gore, USM Gulf Coast assistant dean for academic services, said the move will allow the university to better serve the needs of the local community.

ness administration—elementary education were chosen based on current and predicted enrollment and faculty availability.

During its 1989 spring session, the Legislature approved a state College Board proposal lifting restrictions on the establishment of off-campus university branches. This followed a November 1988 report by a private consulting firm, MGT of America, which conducted an extensive study of the state of Mississippi's higher education system.

A separate MGT study commissioned by USM showed "tremendous potential for post-secondary education" on the Coast and recommended that the university expand its ongoing effort to meet the higher education needs of coastal residents and employers.

In another survey conducted at Mississippi Gulf Coast Community College in February, some 1,500 students indicated they would attend USM/Gulf Coast during 1989-90—an increase of 500, Gore said.

"There is reason to believe that the growth could be even higher, assuming that some of the students who indicated they were undecided in the survey will choose USM/Gulf Coast—and with the addition of day classes, some who had chosen another college may change their minds," Gore said. "I would not be surprised to see the enrollment, which was 1,130 in the fall term of 1988-89, exceed 2,000 by 1990-91."

Printed class schedules—including daytime offerings—will be available late this month, allowing students time for planning prior to USM/Gulf Coast registration Aug. 23-24.

For more information, Hancock and Harrison County residents may call 865-4500 toll-free, and Jackson County residents may call 497-3636. Elsewhere in Mississippi, call 1-800-CALL USM.

Mississippi's 'Blue Book' is useful resource on state

Secretary of State Dick Molpus announced the availability of the new edition of the 'Official and Statistical Register of Mississippi,' more popularly known as the 'Blue Book.' The Blue Book is printed every four years after a presidential election.

"This statistical register is an accounting of where we are at a certain point in time; 1988-1992," said Molpus. "It is a collection of facts, a digest of useful information about state and local government, a directory of public officials and agencies, and a record of election results. But it is also a reflection of where we've been and where we're headed. It celebrates the pride that we share in the accomplishments of our citizens of all cultures and circumstances."

"The Blue Book is a useful desk reference for business, education and government professionals as well as for anyone seeking a general knowledge of the state. The new edition will be even more colorful, more graphic and easier to use than its predecessors," Molpus said. "He emphasized that the Blue Book represents a snapshot in time, serving as a future archive and a primary information resource of Mississippi today.

Though the new edition contains numerous design changes as well as expansion and enhancement of content and presentation, what makes the 1988-92 edition unique is the honest self-appraisal of our past and our present that is contained within its introductory pages.

Said Molpus: "This book represents all of our people, our gains as well as our pains. It offers a point of reference as to where we might go next. The dramatic changes of the 1980's are now historical fact, and are outlined as such in this Blue Book. We have endeavored with this edition to celebrate those changes."

The Blue Book may be obtained upon request from the Secretary of State's office at 401 Mississippi Street, P.O. Box 136, Jackson, MS 39205 or by calling 1-359-1350. There is no charge for single copies.

Summer program to sponsor McGruff visit, Wave Pool trip

BY DENA BISNETTE

The Hancock County Recreation Association's "Summer Fun in '89" program is sponsoring two special events this month.

Association representative Herta Smith said the first of the events will be a visit from McGruff the Crime Dog and his McGruff Mobile at 9 a.m. Wednesday, July 26.

McGruff is best known to children through "Take a Bite Out of Crime" television announcements and programs at local elementary schools. Hancock County Sheriff's Department has the only McGruff Mobile in the area and will be bringing McGruff to visit the children through the special assistance of Deputy Matt Karl.

The second special event will be a field trip to the Wave Pool at Buccaneer State Park Monday, July 31, from 10 a.m. until 3 p.m. There is a $5 admission charge at the pool and participants are also asked to bring lunch.

Smith said children can participate in the trip on a "first come, first go" basis and must register the week before the trip.

The summer program ends Wednesday, Aug. 2, and the association is now looking for parents interested in volunteering to work with an afterschool program, Smith added. Anyone who wishes to volunteer may call 467-0470 and leave a message.

MILITARY MENTION

SEAMAN FRICKE

Navy Seaman Recruit Bruce A. Fricke, son of Marvin C. and Doris P. Fricke of Pearlington, has completed recruit training at Recruit Training Command, Great Lakes, Ill.

During Fricke's eight-week training cycle, he studied general military subjects designed to prepare him for further academic and on-the-job training in one of the Navy's 85 basic fields.

Fricke's studies included seamanship, close order drill, Naval history and first aid. Personnel who complete this course of instruction are eligible for three hours of college credit in physical education and hygiene.

SENATE VISIT—Mr. and Mrs. Mel Estrade of Bay St. Louis and sons, Christopher and Kevin, visited with Senator Trent Lott in the Capitol Building in Washington D.C. recently. During their 10-day stay, the Estrades attended an arrival ceremony for the Prime Minister of Pakistan on the front lawn of the White House and visited several points of interest.

Magee, Martinolich are MSU co-op students

Michael Magee and Stephen Martinolich, both of Bay St. Louis, are participating in the Cooperative Education Program at Mississippi State University.

As a major in the area of Mechanical Engineering, Magee is working toward a bachelor's degree and at the same time working as a co-op student in alternating semesters at the Space Center with NASA.

Martinolich is a mechanical engineering student who is working toward a bachelor's degree in science and is also working as a co-op student in alternating semesters at the Space Center with NASA. The Cooperative Education Program is a five-year educational program which allows a student to gain experience in various fields of study such as agriculture and business, arts and sciences, business and industry, education, engineering and forestry to affiliate with a business, industrial or governmental firm while enrolled at Mississippi State University.

By combining practical experience with theoretical training, this program provides the students with a superior education.

Phillips College plans graduation

Phillips Junior College will conduct its 1989 graduation ceremony Friday, July 21 at 7 p.m. at the Saenger Theatre in Biloxi.

College President Dennis Dollar and Mrs. Sue Hargrove, director of academic affairs, will present degrees and diplomas to 211 candidates for graduation.

Commencement speaker will be the Honorable Mike Moore, attorney general for the State of Mississippi. Moore, who distinguished himself as district attorney for the 19th Judicial District of Mississippi, was chosen in 1982 as one of the Outstanding Young Men in the State of Mississippi by the Jaycees.

In his present position, he serves on the U.S. Attorney's Law Enforcement Coordinating Committee and has been selected to serve on the Executive Working Group for Prosecutorial Relations by the National Association of Attorneys General, meeting with top federal and state officials concerned with setting national strategies for prosecution and law enforcement.

All alumni, family and friends of the graduating class are invited, as well as the general public to attend.
